

ABSTRACT

A method to measure protein wherein said method internally controls for factors that affects protein activity such as substrate concentration.

5

10

15

20

25